REGION: Maule Valley, Chile

APPELLATION: Mingre, Maule Valley

YIELD (HI/Ha): 8 ton/ha

BLEND: 100% Pais

WINEMAKER: Christian Sepúlveda

VINEYARD

País Viejo ('Old País') is a wine with history. Made with País grapes from over 100-year-old Gobelet vines planted in the dry-farmed, coastal region of Maule. Very old soil of granitic, sandy loam with high content of quartz and other minerals.

VITICULTURE

Made from rehabilitated País vines, which provide a window into Chile's ancestral viticulture. Brothers Julio and Juan Bouchon were inspired to restore languishing pockets of old País vines in Maule when they took over their family winery in 2014.

WINEMAKING

100% naturally-fermented using century-old winemaking techniques, including the use of the zaranda (a structure made of sticks to destem the grape clusters). The grapes are hand harvested and fermented with native yeasts in concrete tanks to preserve the wine's authentic expression of terroir.

TASTING NOTES

Bright cherry color. Fruity aromas such as strawberry and sour cherry stand out. In the mouth, it is juicy, fresh and light. 91 Points Tim Atkin MW.
